

The Old Commonwealth.

Harrisonburg, Rockingham County, Va.
WEDNESDAY, - FEBRUARY 6, 1893.

LOCAL AND STATE ITEMS

WANTED—A girl to do house work in a small family. Apply at this office.

PERSONAL—We are glad to state that Major J. C. Walker, of Waverly, is fast recovering from his recent protracted illness. This information will be gladly received by the Major's numerous friends in this county.

ROCKINGHAM LIBRARY ASSOCIATION—This worthy institution, started in this place a few months since, is now so far advanced as to make its first order for books to-morrow night. It is expected that these books will be here previous to the next regular night of meeting, (Saturday, Feb. 13.) Members who desire the purchase of any particular set of books, will hand in their lists to the executive committee by to-morrow evening. We are requested to invite those who have subscribed stock to call upon O. C. Sterling, Jr., Treasurer, and pay up within one week. A committee of five was appointed at the last meeting, to canvass the town, and solicit subscriptions of stock, contributions of books, &c. The committee is composed of gentlemen well known to our citizens, and we hope they will work zealously for the success of the enterprise. The advantages to be derived from the establishment of a well-selected library in this County, must be so apparent to our readers that it is reasonable to expect that the committee will meet with such success as will enable the managers to secure a library which will be a credit to Rockingham.

THE LYCEUM held its regular session last Friday night, and as usual, was largely attended by the citizens, both male and female. The question "Is it expedient to legislate for the suppression of public temptation to vice?" was admirably discussed on the part of the affirmative, by Messrs. Turner, Patterson, and Fitzhugh; and by Messrs. John Paul, Pennybacker, and Warrman, on the part of the negative, decision in favor of the negative. Question for next Friday night: "Was the reign of Henry VIII advantageous to civil liberty?"

IMMIGRANTS ARRIVED—One night last week, the stage from Stanton brought to this place a small band of immigrants direct from the "Fatherland." They were females, of very respectable appearance, but could speak no English. They were forwarded here under the auspices of Gen. J. D. Aboden, Domestic Agent of an Immigration Company which is fast winning its way into a position of practical utility. Push the work along.

COMMUNICATED
Mr. Editor: We were much pleased to observe the kindly manner in which the Lyceum accepted our former report (?) of its proceedings. More particularly because our article was only conceived in a spirit of playfulness, and with no design to reflect disparagingly upon any one. We have a high respect for the Rockingham Lyceum, and admit its possession of talent of a rare order, and we are pleased that it is so. Nevertheless all are not even specially good speakers, therefore a few hints, even from the humble pen of your reporter, might not be amiss to some of the Lyceum. To new-comers we would say do not exert yourselves to make long speeches. Do not come into the meeting laboring under the egotistic idea that the entire audience has assembled for the sole purpose of hearing you. Offer no lame apology. It is a nothing—"Every tub must stand on its own bottom." Besides it is in questionable taste, considering that the act is one of your own volition—no one being likely to insist upon your speaking at all. Speak right to the question, in as much brevity as possible; then if your remarks are good, well—if not, you can console yourself with the reflection that the infliction was but momentary.

Hoping the Society will accept these few hints in the spirit that dictated them, we beg leave, Mr. Commonwealth, to report another of those interesting scenes which of late make the Lyceum peculiarly attractive. The debate, which toward its close had assumed very much the character of a temperance crusade on the part of the affirmative, elicited the following broadside from

Mr. Plausible, who could not find it in his heart to censure a man for indulging in a social glass. And, when two friends meet, perhaps in the old tattered "gray jacket," so suggestive of deeds of valor that make the world stand in admiration, what more natural than the desire to celebrate their reunion in a friendly bumper, or to take a silent drink to the memory of the old comrade who lies buried in the swamps of the Chickahominy, or fell in the charge on the heights of Gettysburg. [Applause.] What harm was there in it? And yet the affirmative would deny them this harmless enjoyment.

Mr. Drone (excitedly) said the gentleman had ridden that "old Confederate horse" into the meeting upon every occasion, and solely with a view to work upon the sympathies of the audience. He advised him to mount a more conservative steed, and endeavor to keep pace with the march of events. [P. S., by Dutt Taker—How would a registration rule do?]

Col. Blowhard had his sensibilities touched by the sneering manner in which the gentleman had spoken of the old broken-down "Confederate horse." To him such memories would always be pleasant. He loved to live over again the scenes of the war in which he had participated: "The midnight march, the bivouac in the pouring rain, the deadly charge in the imminent breach," all, all were glorious memories forever to be associated with a hallowed cause. [Tremendous applause from the bomb-proof department.]

The cavillier, tired and dusty, with his old "Confederate horse," lean and sore-backed, came to him in his winking hours and visited him in his dreams. He did not wish to forget them, and he believed he spoke the sentiments of the whole audience when he said they never would be forgot, nor cease to be the theme of conversation so long as history was left to record the deeds of the brave—

When your reporter retired the House was discussing the point whether the Col's dreams were troubled with visions of a night-mare or a clothes-horse. Yours truly, DOTT TAKER.

PUBLIC SALES OF REAL ESTATE—We call attention to the advertisement of B. F. & H. B. Armentrout, Executors of D. Armentrout. They will sell two tracts of land on the 26th day of February, lying about 3 miles north of Harrisonburg. This is desirable property.

Also to the advertisement of G. W. Berlip, who will sell on the 11th & 12th inst., a large number of building lots, and several houses & lots in the pleasant town of Bridgewater.

RENTED—The fine store-room opposite this office, and now occupied by Dr. S. M. Dold, belonging to Dr. J. N. Gordon, was rented on Saturday last, at public auction, to Mr. L. H. Ott, for the ensuing year, for $480. The two upper stories were knocked off to Mr. Denton for $250, for a dwelling.

We this week commence the publication of a list of our merchants, tradesmen, and others, who advertise in the Commonwealth, designating each particular branch of business. We do this only with a view of recommending them to the patronage of our citizens. Our space will not permit the publication of the entire list in one issue of our paper, but will be continued until all have been noticed.

The Committee appointed by the president of the recent citizens' meeting of this town, to extend the corporate limits, draft a new charter, &c., we understand have made an imaginary boundary and completed the charter, and as soon as the weather will permit an actual survey will be made, and attached to the charter and forwarded to Gen. Schofield with the request that he order an election to be held for its adoption or rejection.

NEW MILL—We are indebted to J. D. Price, for a bushel of nice corn meal, made at the mill attached to the new Lumber Manufacturing Works. This attaching a mill to these works will afford a great convenience to our citizens. As nothing pleases an editor so well as something to eat, we tender our earnest thanks to the miller, Mr. Price and all the Stockholders of the Harrisonburg Lumber Manufacturing and Merchandizing Company.

CONNECTION—In our last issue we stated that Dr. C. H. Mann was appointed Superintendent of the County, by the County Conservative Committee, would proceed to appoint Chiefs of hundreds, tens, &c., as indicated by the circular of the Conservative State Convention. We have been informed, however, by Dr. C. H. Mann, that he has no such power, that it is the duty of the County Committee to make such appointments, and that he expects the gentlemen appointed for each Magisterial district will proceed at once to name their assistants.

FRESH AIR—We are again indebted to our friend Jack Wall for a plover of his fresh Washington Ale. It was very fine, and we tender our thanks for same.

RUNAWAY—A two-horse team, belonging to Mr. Nelson Sprinkel, created quite a furor in our streets on Thursday last, by running away at a fearful rate. They were finally brought to a stop, when it was ascertained that nobody was hurt. Their fright was occasioned by the ringing of sleigh-bells.

J. D. PRICE & Co., Real Estate Agents, above the First National Bank, are re-locating their office in elegant style, with work from the new Lumber Manufacturing Co. Messrs. Price & Co. are doing a heavy business in the Real Estate line, and expect a great increase with the opening of Spring.

Rev. Mr. Bussey, P. E. M. E. Church, for this district, occupied Mr. Kepler's pulpit in this place, on Sunday last, and preached a most acceptable sermon to a large and intelligent congregation.

MUSICAL ADVOCATE—This neatly printed and valuable magazine, published at Singers' Glen, in this county, for February, is before us, and contains a great variety of matter of such a character as to entitle it to a place in any family. Price one copy one year $1, great inducements offered to clubs.

Our Book Table

We have for Feb. the following monthly: Goss's Lovers' Book, and Emerson's Magazine, both published at Philadelphia, these books are well known to all classes of readers in this country, and the more mention of them is enough to remind our friends of former choices.

PHYSIOLOGICAL JOURNAL—Subscription $1 a year by S. R. Wells, 320, Broadway, N. Y. This work contains a fine reproduction, and this number is well deserving of former choices.

THE LITTLE CORPUS, Printed at Chicago, Illinois, is the most entertaining publication for the young we have ever encountered.

THE OLD GUARD—Contains as usual an amount of first class reading matter, such as Politics, Poetry, Novelty, History, &c.

AMERICAN HOME MAGAZINE—Published in Philadelphia, is a monthly of rare merit and is not inferior to any publication of the kind in this country.

LUTHERAN VISITOR, Rev. J. I. Miller, Staunton, Va., a valuable religious periodical, devoted to the interests of the Lutheran Church.

All the above books may be found at H. T. Warrman's Book Store.

THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY.
Sir James Clarke's Female Pills,
Prepared from a prescription of Sir J. Clarke, M.D., of London, England.
This invaluable medicine is unfailing in the cure of all those painful and dangerous diseases to which the female constitution is subject. It removes all excess and restores all obstructions from whatever cause.

TO MARRIED LADIES.
It is particularly stated, it will in a short time, bring to the monthly period with regularity, and although powerful remedy, does not contain anything harmful to the constitution. In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Fatigue, or slight excitation, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysterics, and all other diseases to which the female constitution is subject, it will be found to be a most valuable remedy. Full directions in the pamphlet accompanying each package.

423 ALBANY ST.
Beware of Counterfeits—Observe the name of J. D. PRICE on the package—purchase none without it—All others are base and worthless imitations.
S. R. Wells, the dealer, with these cents for postage, enclosed to the proprietor, J. D. PRICE, 37 Cortlandt Street, New York, will have a full and complete copy of the pamphlet, by return mail, securely enclosed, and no charge for postage.

RE-ERRORS OF YOUTH—A Gentleman who suffered for years from Nervous Debility, Premature decay, and all the effects of youthful indiscretions, and who has since become a powerful man, writes to all who need it, the recipe and directions for making the simple remedy by which he was cured. Senders wishing to profit by his experience, and to remove all obstructions from whatever cause, can do so by addressing, in perfect confidence, to the proprietor, J. D. PRICE, 37 Cortlandt Street, New York, 1567—157.

The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates, that, in a few days, a successful practice, in the treatment of the above diseases, may be radically cured without the dangerous use of Internal or External Remedies, and that the patient may at a stroke of cure at once simple, certain, and effectu-
